Mr. Kerens thinks that a million dollars ing the next two years, and he believes that that sum will be forthcoming. "This St. Louis syndicate propose to complete their plans of local railway development, which involve the building of nearly one hundred miles of railway and a fine wharf at San Pedro, on Rattlesnake island, with depots at Los Angeles and on the island. In all they will spend, so Mr. Chandler says, three million dollars. They estimate that this will take them until about the first of September. After that their plans embody making a traffic arrangement with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fè railway, which gives them the use of that road to Barstow. They also contemplate making a traffic arrangement with the Union Pacific railway east, which will land them

"When this is accomplished they propose to interview the people of Los Angeles as to taking stock to the extent of one million dollars in the road. They first intend to invite our citizens to send out experts to inspect for themselves the immense deposits of coal and iron in southwestern Utah. As a condition for this subscription they will bind themselves to deliver coal at Los Angeles for $4 a ton. As one bundred thousand tons of coal are now being used in this city and vicinity, costing an average of $10 a ton, this will of itself, in a few years, more than reimburse the subscription asked for, and the county would, besides, have the stock. San Bernardino and Orange counties would be asked to contribute their pro rata of this subscription.

It was a novel experience for a botanist to travel on the sand dunes with such a diving bell over his head, in search of flowers that had long ago become discouraged and departed for fairer come discouraged and departed for fairer climes than ours.

Quite a number of shrubs or suffin tescent plants still persisted in existing even under these adverse conditions. But the wind and sand combined treats them cruelly, and they all bend or lean in one direction with the wind in weak submission. The sand strikes them with cutting force, and on the windward side the stems are scarred and cut by the drifting sand until they are sometimes

Old tin cans are polished in the storms to perfection, and glass in windows exposed to the wind is slowly but surely eaten away. The rocks are some-times cut into curious shapes, and a piece of quartz given to me has an edge as sharp as an Indian ax. Only the station agent and his associates have the hardihood to exist in this locality—all other life succumbs to the inevitable.

The Kaweah Colony.

The Los Angeles Express has published a long article, giving the result in Tulare county, which was established ideas. As quite a number of people from Riverside joined the colony and were enthusiastic believers in the Bellamy theory, the following synopsis of the reinterest to our people:

The investigation was prompted by the prosecution in the United States District Court of Burnett Haskell, Henry F. Hubnoard, Honry T. Taylor, James J. Martin, William Christie, trustees and leaders, on the charge of cutting timber on Government lands. In October, 1885 orty-two men made timber entries or lands famous for the big timber, in Tupartly built a road eighteen miles through an inaccessible country to get to the timber claims. Their entries were refused by the Visalia office, but the filers pro-tested and went on with their work. The five trustees above mentioned were found guilty, and the Express makes the following statements in regard to the methstock company and the former started a magazine claiming that the Kaweah colony owned 4000 acres of timber lands and 2000 acres of grazing lands. A most glowing description was given of the delights of living in the colony which was being run on the Bellamistic plan. Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of people during a period of over three years have been duped into the scheme, many persons spending their all to get to Kaweah man or goods bought from the colony and bearing half a cent interest. Thousands of these worthless bits of paper have been issued and many persons have

Martin, who received all these moneys, was $3000 a month. Some persons were permitted by the alleged board of directors to come to the colony and work out their $400 balance upon membership.
